

TRUMAN GIVES MEAT TALK MONDAY

TASK FINISHED
ON HUNGARIAN
PEACE TREATYPACT FOR FINLAND
TO BE WOUND UP
MONDAY

BY LOUIS NEVIN

Paris, Sunday, Oct. 13 (AP)—The peace conference completed its work on the Hungarian peace treaty early today after rejecting the plea for the United States for a $100,000,000 reduction in the amount of reparations that nation must pay Russia, Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia.

In the course of completing its deliberations on the last of the treaties for the Balkan satellites of Germany, the conference voted to free the Hungarian section of the Danube to commerce of all nations, as it had done earlier in the Romanian and Bulgarian treaties.

After a recess today, the conference will convene tomorrow, under the chairmanship of President Georges Bidault of France, to finish its work on the treaty with Finland.

The delegates voted 12 to two with seven abstentions to allow the three Slav nations $300,000,000. Only Canada joined the United States, Australia, Belgium, Brazil, Greece, Norway, New Zealand and the Netherlands abstained.

Armed Forces Limited

Willard Thorp, U. S. state department economic expert, appealing for the reduction in order to keep Hungary from "economic disintegration," spoke just before the delegates of the 21 nations began to vote on final approval of the Hungarian treaty, fourth and next to last treaty to be passed upon by the conference.

In slightly more than 15 minutes after tonight's session opened the delegates approved all the political articles in the treaty, including one directing Hungary to negotiate with Czechoslovakia on the return of 200,000 Hungarians on Czech soil, and another granting Czechoslovakia three towns in a bridehead across the Danube to permit enlargement of Bratislava. Military clauses limiting Hungary's armed forces to 65,000 men for combat and 20 transport planes with a manpower of 5,000 were adopted without discussion.

Ballot On Whisky
Begins This Week
In Lenawee County

Adrian, Mich., Oct. 12 (AP)—Lenawee county's first liquor vote in 35 years is scheduled for this week on the proposal to sell whisky by the glass.

Ballotting will begin in Deerfield Oct. 15. Tecumseh and Clinton will vote Oct. 22. Britton Oct. 31, and Adrian, Hudson, Morenci and Hudson township Nov. 5. Onsted will decide the question Nov. 6.

It will be the first test of whisky sales since the county went dry in 1911.

Adrian taverns have agreed to close from Nov. 2 to 6 as a guarantee of an election free of "wet" pressure.

Adrian was one of eight key Michigan cities earmarked for a drive by the Michigan Table Top Licensees' Congress which seeks the return of liquor also in Lansing, Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Kalamazoo, Royal Oak and Albion.

Battle Creek, another major "dry" city, voted down liquor by the glass in a special election Oct. 1.

In Michigan Political Spotlight This Week

(By The Associated Press)

Henry A. Wallace, former vice president and until recently commerce secretary, steals the political spotlight in Michigan this week.

He is scheduled to stump the state for the Democratic ticket Friday, Saturday and Sunday, with his route leading from Muskegon to Detroit.

SOVIETS ASKED
TO SETTLE UPU. S. Lend Lease Account
With Moscow Amounts
To 11 Billions

Washington, Oct. 12 (AP)—The United States has asked Russia to begin negotiations designed to settle up the Soviet's $11,000,000,000 war time lend lease account, informed diplomatic officials disclosed tonight.

These officials said the American government had sent a note to Moscow several weeks ago suggesting this step but had not yet received a reply.

Russia presumably will be asked during the conversations to pay the United States a percentage of the cost of the guns, tanks, warplanes and other materiel furnished her under the wartime agreement.

In previous similar post-lend-lease negotiations with other countries, however, the United States has not sought full-scale compensation. Factors like war losses, and casualties are taken into consideration before arriving at a figure and writing "closed" to the account.

The American note asked a Soviet financial mission to come to Washington to begin the discussions as soon as convenient.

Crane Boom Strikes
Wires, Two Killed
Near Grand Ledge

Grand Ledge, Mich., Oct. 12 (AP)—Two men were electrocuted and six others injured today when the boom of a crane they were working with swung into a high tension wire on M-43, four miles west of here.

State police and inhalator squads from Lansing and Grand Ledge unsuccessfully tried to revive Berton Powers, 18, of Lansing, and Clarence Sanders, 28, of Lansingburg.

Seriously burned was Floyd Dickerson, 63, of Mulliken, who was under treatment at St. Lawrence hospital, Lansing.

Leroy Tyler, 23, of Alma, Gene Louis, 24, of Mulliken, Charles Winger, 24, of Greenville, Henry Floyd Vronson, 17, of Grand Ledge, suffered lesser burns and were released from the hospital after treatment.

The men, all employed by the Greenville Sand and Gravel Co., had been standing in and around the crane which was loading gravel onto a truck current American foreign policy, is expected to fire a verbal salvo at Republican Arthur H. Vandenberg, seeking reelection as U. S. senator Nov. 5.

Vandenberg, as adviser to Secretary of State Byrnes, must accept responsibility for foreign policy and is the logical Michigan target for Wallace.

The Iowa fire following week by Sen. Claude Pepper, Florida Democrat, who feels equally strongly that the United States is on the wrong international track.

Both men have long been beloved by the CIO's political action committee which is expected to provide the backbone of the various welcoming committees.

Most significant political date of the week in Michigan is Wednesday, Oct. 16 when registrations for the Nov. 5 election end. A legislative mandate requires communities under 5,000 population and rural areas to re-register all electors.

The state gubernatorial race, which has been gaining in momentum each week, rolls along at a rapid pace with both Republican Kim Sigler and Democrat Murray D. Van Wagoner back from campaign junkets to the Upper Peninsula.

NOTHING READY
AT NUERNBERGNo Scaffold Ordered Yet
For Hanging 11 Nazis
At Dawn Wednesday

BY THOMAS A. REEDY

Nuernberg, Germany, Oct. 12 (AP)—Although Hermann Goering and 10 other Hitler disciples are scheduled to be executed four days from now, not a single move has been taken within the Nuernberg jail to prepare for the hangings Wednesday morning.

U. S. Army officers, who run the jail, said tonight that no scaffold had been built and no materials for a scaffold had been received or ordered; the name of the hangman had not been divulged, and no official notice had been received that the Allied control council had denied clemency appeals.

The 11 hangings are expected to take place, one after the other, starting at dawn Wednesday. Goering probably will be the first to mount the gallows.

Although the official notification of the denial of clemency appeals has not been received, the condemned men have learned through their wives or other sources that the appeals were rejected by the control council last Thursday.

Goering, no longer the blustering personality who dominated the other war crimes defendants, is spending many of his final hours lying on his bunk, staring at the ceiling.

The former reichsmarshal has been reading "With the Passage of Birds to Africa," Fritz Sauckel, former labor bully, is reading "Happy Island," and Col. Gen. Alfred Jodl, chief of staff of the Nazi army, is reading "The Traveler."

FORD REQUEST
SIDE-STEPPED
BY CIO CHIEFPRESIDENT MURRAY
DODGES LABOR DISPUTE

Detroit, Oct. 12 (AP)—CIO President Philip Murray today side-stepped a direct request from Henry Ford II, president of the Ford Motor company, asking Murray's personal intervention in a labor dispute at the company.

Ford, in a unique move Friday bypassed international officers of the CIO United Auto Workers and asked Murray: "Can and will CIO  control the subversive and insurgent factions which are apparently calling the tune in so many places today?"

The CIO president sent a wire to Ford today in which he said:

"In acknowledgement of your telegram, I have discussed the matter with UAW Vice President Richard T. Leonard who advises me that certain of the employees concerned are working under extreme hazardous conditions affecting health and life.

" I express the hope that mutually satisfactory conclusion will be reached," Murray concluded.

Fumes Claimed Injurious
Ford spokesmen said there would be no immediate company comment on the chief's statement.

They added that no further sessions were scheduled with the UAW at present to discuss the 11-day tieup of the Ford open hearth department cranes.

The dispute began when 12 overhead crane operators walked off the job. The union has contended the men were forced to do so by poisonous fumes. The walk-out was called off.

BONUS NO ISSUE
FOR YOUNG GOPVeterans Not Asking
Favors, Conference
In Detroit Told

Detroit, Oct. 12 (AP)—The Michigan Federation of Young Republicans, on the insistence of members who are ex-servicemen, today refused to vote approval of the proposed state bonus as they wound up a two-day conference.

A resolution calling for endorsement of the bonus was stricken from the record following a floor fight led by R. C. Fancher, a Detroit veteran, who told the conference:

"We don't want to be segregated for favors. We just want to be civilians again. Let the state help the disabled veteran and the man without a home."

The bonus proposal will be on the state ballot at the Nov. 5 general election.

Gordon Walker of Detroit, was re-elected chairman of the federation, and Anthony Stamm, Kalamazoo county clerk, was named assistant treasurer.

Vice-chairmen elected were Charles Saunders of Detroit, Elton Steinko of Benton Harbor, John Ackert of Muskegon, Arlene Fisk of Farmington, Mrs. Arvid Hicks of Alma, and Ruth Vast of Monroe.

Other officers include O'Neill Nichols of Flint, treasurer; Mrs. Stella Norman of Flint, secretary; Mrs. A. Hubble Loomis of Grand Rapids, national committeewoman; and Fred W. Kaess of Detroit, national committeeman.

Reindeer Do Well;
Coldwater Dealer
Wants To Get Herd

Seattle, Oct. 12 (AP)—Arctic reindeer planted by the government in the far north have thrived so well in recent years that a "thinning out" was carried on this summer, Edwin Butters, 37-year-old Coldwater, Mich., meat dealer, reported today.

A cargo of 1,023 reindeer carcasses, from animals rounded up and killed on Univak Island in the Bering Sea, will arrive Monday on the Alaska freighter Square Knot, consigned to Butters for shipment east. He flew south from Alaska this week. Striking longshoremen here have agreed to unload the cargo because of the meat shortage.

Butters has been negotiating with the government for more than a year to get the start of a reindeer herd for his 150 acre farm just outside of Coldwater where he now raises buffalo for meat. He started the buffalo venture in the spring of 1945, hoping to reintroduce the early American habit of eating buffalo meat.

Veteran Campaigner
Gen. Stilwell Dies

San Francisco, Oct. 12 (AP)—General Joseph W. Stilwell, 63, commander of the Sixth Army, who recoiled from a "Hell of a beating" in Burma to help knock Japan out of the war, died today. Death came quietly to the veteran campaigner at 12:48 p. m. (PST). At his bedside was his Army physician, Col. Leonard D. Heaton. One of his two sons, Col. Joseph W. Jr., was just outside the room.

Immediately following his death, it was revealed that General Stilwell expressed a wish that there be no funeral services—that he be cremated and his ashes spread from an airplane over the Pacific near his home in Carmel, Calif. No date for the rite was announced.

Death was attributed to adenocarcinoma (cancer) of the liver, which was discovered during the treatment of an amoebic abscess of the liver.

The hard-bitten fighter, characterized by candor and known to his troops as "Vinegar Joe" and "Uncle Joe," said after the Japanese drove his combined Allied forces out of Burma in 1942:

"I claim we got a hell of a beating."

The beating was inflicted with Stilwell in the front lines. He was at the end of what General George C. Marshall termed "the thinnest supply line of all."

No Baloney For Troops
Stilwell served as chief of staff to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, directing Chinese offensives against the Japanese until October, 1944, when major disagreements between Chiang and the American general became apparent. The principal contention was over the uses to which the Chinese were putting American war equipment.

Then the war department recalled the battling veteran of China and placed him in the Pentagon building in Washington as commander of the U. S. Army ground forces.

His desk failed to hold him long. Stilwell was touring Pacific battlefronts when Lt. Gen. Simon B. Buckner, Jr., was killed in action. Succeeding Buckner as commander of the Tenth Army June 21, 1945, Stilwell drove his forces to quick completion of the Okinawa campaign.

On August 31, 1945, he accepted the surrender of the Ryukyu Islands from the Japanese.

He told his troops in a Fourth of July speech that he wasn't going to "get off a lot of baloney about your heroic deeds and glorious victories. This has been a tough fight—nobody but the men who fought it can possibly realize how tough."

Returning to the United States on deactivation of the Tenth Army, Stilwell became commander of the reactivated Sixth Army Feb. 23, 1946.

The general's widow is the former Winifred Alison Smith of Syracuse, N. Y. The surviving members of the family include his sons, Lt. Col. Joseph W. Stilwell, Jr., liaison officer to the Canadian Army at Edmonton, Alberta, and Benjamin W. student at Stanford University; three daughters, Mrs. E. F. Easterbrook of Fort Benning, Ga.; Mrs. William E. Cox of San Francisco and Miss Alison Stilwell of San Francisco; a brother, John, of Ardenwood, N. Y., and a sister, Mrs. Stuart Wilder of Newton, Conn.

Ex-Lobbyist Hemans
Continues To Balk
In Bribe Testimony

Lansing, Oct. 12 (AP)—Examination of 19 alleged conspirators in the anti-branch bank bill case is scheduled to resume Wednesday but its future remained in jeopardy today by the continued refusal of Charles F. Hemans to testify.

Circuit Judge Chester P. O'Hara, the examining magistrate, has said publicly that the state's case—if any—depends upon Hemans' testimony.

The natty little former army major exhausted his final legal remedy last week and, still protesting, was turned over to the Ingham county grand jury.

Judge Louis E. Coash, grand juror, said he plans further conferences with Hemans Monday and Special Prosecutor Richard B. Foster has insisted that he will call the reluctant witness to the stand when the examination resumes.

However, their pressure thus far apparently has not altered Hemans' decision against testifying.

The ex-lobbyist was brought back from Washington, D. C., Oct. 1 as a fugitive witness and is awaiting trial on that charge in federal court in Detroit.

HOTELS CHILLY
IN WASHINGTONDignitaries Make Their Own Beds As Strike
Ties Up Service

Washington, Oct. 12 (AP)—Diplomats and dignitaries made their own beds today and shivered at prospects of cold water and cold rooms as a spreading strike strangled service at 18 of the capital's top hotels.

Hundreds of visitors seeking rooms were turned away, even when they had reservations.

A brother and cousin of President Truman, titled visitors from abroad, cabinet officers and supreme court justices found it as futile as 10,000 other hotel guests to pick up a phone and ask for a bell hop.

Supervisors and clerks tried to provide makeshift service on switchboards and elevators. But dining rooms and bars were dark. "Closed" signs hung on doors. Pickets paraded outside.

Some 5,000 service employees struck yesterday for higher pay. They belong to AFL unions. And today boiler tenders were shutting down engine rooms. Their union, also AFL, called theirs all off the job by midnight, cutting off heat, hot water and air conditioning.

The unions originally had demanded a raise of 15 cents an hour for all workers who get no tops and 10 cents for those who do. The hotels offered 5 and 2½ cents. Labor department conciliators suggested a compromise on 8 and 4 cents. The union agreed but the hotels rejected it, contending it would cost them $1,000,000 a year. No negotiations were scheduled today.

Greek Government
Mops Up Leftists;
Highways Cut Off

(By The Associated Press)

Athens, Oct. 12—Greek military authorities declared today that leftist bands in Central Macedonia have been cut to pieces and predicted "full success" in "twenty days" for the government's mop up campaign.

However a more southerly commander, Gen. Spiros Georgoulis at the head of the Second army corps in Larissa, simultaneously declared that "a network of Communist bands directed from abroad is attempting to cut off Northern Greece and form an autonomous state." He admitted that it is now necessary to convey traffic on Greece's main north-south highway from a point just north of Larissa.

The declaration that outlaw bands in Macedonia have been cut up came from Greek Third army headquarters in a statement at Salonika. It followed several weeks of what Premier Constantinos Tsaldaris has called civil war.

The Salonika statement declared that attacks believed to be attempts to reaffirm the authority of the leftist ELAS can be regarded as a "failure." Remnants of the bands, the statement said, are now fleeing toward the rugged Mount Olympus terrain.

STRONG ON MEMORIALS

Denver, Oct. 12 (AP)—Erection of a monument in each state capital and a building in Washington, D. C., in memory of Franklin D. Roosevelt is envisaged by the Franklin D. Roosevelt memorial foundation, its chairman, Glen S. Wilson of Austin, Tex., said today.

The movement is under way in Texas, Wilson said in an interview. It is proposed to limit contributions to a dollar a person.

Wallace Will Be Editor Of
New Republic

Washington, Oct. 12 (AP)—Henry A. Wallace, fired from President Truman's cabinet for his foreign policy views, accepted today the editorship of the New Republic, a weekly magazine in which he can express them as he pleases.

His appointment is effective in December, Wallace said. It will not interfere with his plans for a Democratic campaign tour.

The ousted Secretary of Commerce said in a statement issued through the Washington office of the magazine:

"I shall have the opportunity of saying exactly what I think at a time when a bi-partisan bloc mousing the phrase 'one world' is really driving the world into two armed camps.

"As editor of the New Republic, I shall do everything I can to arouse the American people, the British people, the French people, and, in fact, the liberally-minded people of the whole world to the need of stopping this dangerous armament race."

The magazine now lists four editors. One of them, Bruce Bliven, also is president of the company publishing the magazine. Bliven said in New York there would be no change in policies, that Wallace would have the title of "editor," and that present editors probably would be listed as associate editors. The others are George Soule, Michael Straight and Stark Young.

The disclosure of the new position for the man who served eight years as Secretary of Agriculture and four as vice president came shortly before Wallace gave his daughter, Jean, in marriage.

He told a reporter just before the ceremony there would be no change in his plans to stump the country for Democratic candidates during the current congressional campaign.

Wallace plans to leave here next week and to speak in Michigan, Indiana, California, Washington, Minnesota, Wisconsin and perhaps Ohio and Illinois.

FARM WORKERS
BACKED BY AFLThird Political Party
Idea Growing In Union Ranks

BY NORMAN WALKER

Chicago, Oct. 12 (AP)—The American Federation of Labor is throwing its weight behind a drive to organize farm workers and help them gain bargaining rights and a shorter work week.

If the plan succeeds the combination of agricultural and industrial workers could have far-reaching effects in the nation's politics and economics.

Already an AFL group is sponsoring the third political party idea. It is backing a resolution in the AFL convention here to form such a party, independent of the Republicans and Democrats, with combined labor and farm support.

The third party proposal likely will fail to get conventional support. However, the AFL executive council already has pledged that it will cooperate "in full measure" in promoting the organizing activities of one of its newest affiliates, the National Farm Labor Union.

H. L. Mitchell, president of that union, predicted in a statement today that the AFL, so as to implement the farm-worker organizational campaign, will work actively to have congress extend to the farm those benefits it has already granted workers in industry.

Seven-Month-Long
Allis-Chalmers Co.
Strike Is Settled

La Porte, Ind., Oct. 12 (AP)—A seven-month-long strike at the Allis-Chalmers Co. plant here was ended tonight with the signing of a contract which had been approved earlier in the day by union officials.

Union officials said immediate arrangements would be made with the company to return the men to work.

The strike started March 14 over disagreement of a new contract involving wage increases, seniority and vacations.

NEW PLANT IDLE

Wilmington, Del., Oct. 12 (AP)—General Motors' new $9,500,000 assembly plant here will not begin operations before the fall of 1947 because of shortages of basic materials, R. H. Ahlers, plant manager, announced today.

The new plant, started in the spring of 1945, is designed to assemble Buicks, Oldsmobiles and Pontiacs.

VOTERS AWAIT
NEW SOLUTION OF SHORTAGESDECISION ON CHOPS
TO PRESIDENT

BY DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

Washington, Oct. 12 (AP)—President Truman tonight prepared a decision on the meat control question for broadcast to the nation Monday night while the GOP commented "better late than never."

Mr. Truman will deliver his solution to the meat-hungry voters in a broadcast at 10 p. m. (Eastern Standard Time) Monday over all networks.

Scarcely had this been disclosed when Carroll Reece, Republican national chairman, issued a statement that "It will not suffice to pull a political rabbit out of the hat. One rabbit is a rather scanty diet for over 140,000,000 people."

Too Late, Says Reece
"Mr. Truman has in the past demonstrated an ability to do the right thing too late," Reece continued.

"It is, however, to be hoped that in attempts to solve this problem Mr. Truman and his administration will approach it from the viewpoint of what is best from the long-range viewpoint. To provide a feast now at the expense of an inevitable famine later would be an exhibition of cheap politics which would inevitably be repudiated by the American people."

"The American people are not willing to sell their votes on Nov. 5 for steaks and chops if they know they will be able to get only horse meat to eat in January or February."

In announcing the arrangements, Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross said Mr. Truman will discuss meat as part of "the stabilization program."

Cabinet Viewpoint Heard
That generated new speculation on how far the chief executive might be willing to go in adjusting the administration's line against inflation to get rib roasts back onto dinner tables—and nudge Democratic candidates off political hot-spots.

The decision was the president's alone. His advisers had laid before him their arguments for one line of action or another. The problem had been threshed over thoroughly in cabinet meeting and other high-level conferences.

Price Administrator Paul Porter, who said last Saturday the choice between steaks and stabilization, was silent on the meat question in his weekly broadcast today. He discussed housing.

One thing appeared certain—that Mr. Truman would announce some kind of action and not confine himself to mere discussions of the scarcity of meat and the dangers of inflation.

But even officials familiar with what has happened in the top-rung conferences had different ideas of the course the president would set.

Middle Path Predicted
One said he believed Mr. Truman would pick a middle path—a boost in present meat ceilings, or some-kind of insured profit for livestock producers. Another said he thought it would be either complete decontrol or retention of the existing clamps on prices.

Still in the picture as a possibility was the importing of meat to whittle down the American shortage. Some politicians and the domestic industry have criticized that idea severely.

Argentina has offered 4,000,000 pounds of canned meat. To bring fresh meat from Argentina would necessitate suspending restrictions now imposed on the ground that they are necessary to prevent spreading the hoof and mouth disease.

Mr. Truman might work into Monday's report to the nation the government's decision on a formal petition from the beef industry for an end to price ceilings.

The petition was filed with Secretary of Agriculture Anderson. He farmed it out to aides for study and recommendations and their reports came back today.

Hermansville

Ayotte-Conard

Hermansville, Mich.—A colorful autumn wedding, held at the church of the American Martyrs in Kingsford on Oct. 5, united in marriage Elizabeth Marie Conard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Juel Conard of Kingsford, and Warren Paul Ayotte, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ayotte of Hermansville.

The strains of Ave Maria provided background music as the double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. John G. Hughes, before an altar beautifully decorated with purple and pink asters.

The bride wore a gown of white tulle with long sleeves, shirred bodice and heart shaped neckline, the net skirt extending in a train. Her fingertip veil of bridal illusion was attached to a crest of pearlized orange blossoms, and she carried white chrysanthemums and pom-poms, tied with satin streamers.

Mrs. Edward Lahti, matron of honor, wore a pink tulle gown with sweetheart neckline and an overskirt of pink net, which formed a contrast to a matching gown in yellow worn by the bridesmaid, Mrs. George E. Southwell Jr.

The bride's mother wore a blue suit with black accessories and a pink corsage of pom-poms. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Fred Ayotte, wore navy blue with black accessories and a yellow corsage of pom-poms. Ernest Ayotte was best man and Ray Conard and Vernon Seerist Jr. acted as ushers.

Dynamite!

Duck hunter beefs about the sky busters who seem to think that their 12's are ack-ack guns and the lad whose trick timing with a .410 nullified plans to start off Portage Bay hunters on an even footing with a bomb signaling the opening moment of duck hunting are easily passed off. After all, the novice and the youngster have for years taken their first taste of duck shooting at Portage and their mistakes are bound to show up.

Not to be passed over lightly is the lad who showed up on the ducking grounds with a .22 rifle. That is far too dangerous. While the small calibre .22 is essentially a sporting gun, it is as deadly as any. Laws regulating the hunting of waterfowl definitely ban the use of any firearm other than a shotgun. Practically every box of .22 ammunition warns the user that the little slug of metal is dangerous to a distance up to a mile and one of the most widely publicized rules of safety in gun handling warns against shooting at the surface of water. Yet, on the opening day of the duck season there was at least one lad merrily skipping his .22 slugs over the water among some 500 duck hunters at Portage.

Portage is a remarkable shooting ground in that despite the fact that opening day probably sees a greater number of hunters than is concentrated in the state, it has for years been free of shooting accidents. This is no time to have the record marred.

seasons to come to an end is that on woodcock which opened on October 1 and closes one-half hour before sunset on Tuesday, Oct. 15. Although the hunter is permitted to take four of the woodcock per day this corner has yet to hear of a hunter who took that limit.

Birds Elusive

While the upland bird hunters have been blaming their lack of success on the foliage that still clings to shrub and tree and to the noisy winds that stir up the crisp leaves the duck hunter has given voice to the familiar query, "Where are the ducks?"

The first real cold snap of the season which is now upon us will, those hunters hope, provide an answer to that by sending some flights of migrating ducks down from the north. The ducks that can be seen over the tube of his scatter gun are the ones the hunter is interested in.

Duck shooting this week is from 5:30 a. m. to 4:43 p. m. until Saturday when the time shift cuts the shooting day to those hours between 5:38 a. m. and 4:32 p. m.

Meat Hunting

If the little woman is putting the pressure on the hunting member of the family to bring in something in the way of meat for dining table decoration, said hunter may as well own up to the lady that using a gun to supply meat from the woods is something that is done only in the history books. It is a trick that went the same place as home-cared wool, home-made soap and fireplace cookery.

Take it from Lloyd Swift, head of the Forest Service's wildlife branch and Albert M. Day, director of the Interior Department's Fish and Wildlife Service: It's too expensive. And it's too much of a hit-or-miss proposition.

"There may be some relation between the meat shortage and hunting, but we don't expect it to be a big factor," says Swift.

"If a man goes into the woods, the probability is that he'll have less than a 50-50 chance of shooting anything."

Day said he isn't too worried either, about the danger of hordes of hungry nimrods killing off deer, elk and moose.

"There'll be lots of hunting, yes. But it will be mostly by real hunters, who won't be out just to get meat for the table," he said.

Of course, Day and Swift refer to the legal hunter. As for the other kind, their racket is getting tougher all the time.

Radio Plane

The headlighter is the latest of the conservation law violators to find that progress is catching up with him.

The use of radio equipped planes is not new as an aid of law enforcement officers seeking to keep tabs on hunters and fishermen in the wide reaches of the Upper Peninsula but a new wrinkle has been added.

Dick Gearhart, a former navy pilot, has been taking to air at night to spot the headlighting poachers from the conservation department's plane. With the radio-equipped plane it is no trick to keep in touch with the various department headquarters stations which in turn direct the radio-equipped cars of officers to the source of any suspicious ground activity.

The plan was hampered by the lack of airports in the peninsula which are equipped for night landings. Gearhart solved that problem with the idea of a row of flares to be used on fields that do not have night lights. It may

Chicago—(AP)—AFL President William Green flatly turned down a British bid to cooperate with the World Federation of Trade Unions, a group including the CIO in its membership but tagged by Green as Communist-dominated.

Green told the American Federation of Labor convention he thought the British labor movement's position was "contradictory" because it cooperated with Soviet Russia in the WFTU yet refused to accept the Communist Party in the British Labor Party.

The AFL leader spoke in reply to a speech delivered to the convention by Thomas O'Brien, a fraternal delegate representing the British Trade Union Congress and a member of Parliament. O'Brien had asked the AFL, regardless of whether it agreed with all WFTU policies, to cooperate in the interest of a unified worldwide trade unionism.

"We know that you can't make a decision in the WFTU without first ascertaining what the dictator in Moscow shall say about it," Green shouted to convention applause. O'Brien listened smilingly from the convention platform.

Leonard, UAW-CIO Ford director, backed the operators' stand, declaring tests showed the fumes injurious. He said a ruling by the contract umpire made a walkout under such circumstances legal.

On another front, the 100,000 production workers at Ford and 13,000 at Hudson Motor Co. were preparing to return to work Monday following a long weekend layoff. A shortage of sheet steel resulted in the closing of the plants Thursday, company spokesmen said.

The same shortage was blamed for curtailment at the Chrysler Corp. and Briggs Co. which, company spokesmen said, would result in the ultimate layoff of 30,000 to 40,000 workers.

Sigler Voices Plea For Clean Government; Hits At Wallace 'Sovietism'

Kim Sigler, Republican candidate for governor, last night in Escanaba called upon the citizens of Michigan "to redeem the fair name of the state from the odium that has besmirched it for such a long time," and assailed the Democratic party for bringing Henry Wallace to Michigan to "expound his views on Socialism and Sovietism."

Sigler spoke at Wm. Oliver auditorium in Escanaba Junior high school last night at a public meeting sponsored by the Delta county Republican committee. Wallace Cameron of Gladstone introduced Sigler, Fred Alger, Republican candidate for secretary of state, and Muriel Aten, Republican candidate for auditor general. Republican county candidates also were introduced.

The Republican candidates for state offices arrived in Escanaba yesterday afternoon by plane from Menominee and will leave today for Detroit.

"Without exception," said Sigler, "the people have impressed me with their determination to clean up our state government and elect state officials who will keep it clean in the future. In a nutshell, they are determined in this election and at this time to redeem the fair name of the state from the odium that has besmirched it for such a long time. They have become wise to what has been going on and the corrupt influences that have existed not only in the legislature but in other state offices and in many of the important agencies having to do with the administration of public business.

Surface Only "Scratched"

"Our citizens have gained firsthand information from the disclosures which have been made through grand jury proceedings which have resulted in so many indictments and confessions and have conclusively demonstrated that graft and corruption have been rampant in the official life of Michigan without restraint or interference of any kind whatever. In my opinion the disclosures thus far made have not as yet—as the saying goes—scratched the surface, and I believe that when the investigations now in progress are completed the citizens of this state will be surprised and shocked at the extent to which these corrupt practices have infiltrated our public life," Sigler said. "This is a bad and unfortunate situation, but must be dealt with effectively, and I am here to say to you tonight that if it should transpire or happen that the work now under way is not finished, for want of time or otherwise, as Governor of Michigan I will deem it my duty to see that it is completed and that your state government is freed of the insidious influences that have developed and made possible this unfortunate and unholy situation.

"Besides doing a good job for Michigan and reestablishing a clean and efficient state government, it is my firm conviction that the voters at this election are going to register their disapproval of and dissatisfaction with the confusing manner in which our national and international affairs have been carried on ever since the close of the war," Sigler continued. "No real American can excuse the confusion and uncertainty that have been developed in our international relations. It is notorious that the whole situation with reference to them has been badly bungled and becomes worse as time goes on, and it is a fact—that we are drifting along without that leadership which is required in the handling of the very important matters that now concern this and the other liberty-loving countries of the world. America supplied the Allies with food, raw materials, men and arms, sufficient to defeat the forces seeking world oppression. America, therefore, and thereby, should lead in the making of the peace and would if her interests were properly protected and safeguarded."

Wallace "Sovietism"

"Therefore I hope that when the electors of this state go to the polls on November 5, they will let the world know that Michigan stands firmly for constitutional government of the people, and for a government that will protect the independence, the liberty, and the security of its citizens."

"We, as Americans, should not overlook what has been going on in Washington of late months and since peace was declared. We should not overlook that there has been a great deal of unnecessary floundering on the part of our and other governments in the solution of matters growing out of the war. The situation is becoming more serious as time goes on, domestically, nationally, and internationally. The people have been kept in ignorance of what was transpiring in our international affairs and at home their occupations and lives have been unnecessarily interfered with through bungling, regimentation and regulation," Sigler said.

"I notice through the press that Henry Wallace is going to visit our state during the present campaign. Just what they are bringing him here for I do not pretend to know. It was first announced that those in charge of the Democratic organization would not have him speak in Michigan. That was because he had made a speech in which he had criticized the Democratic secretary of state, Mr. Byrnes. It seemed to be a great breach of etiquette for brother Wallace to criticize Mr. Byrnes. Thereupon, Mr. Wallace made a public statement to the effect that before delivering his tirade against Byrnes he had submitted the manuscript to Mr. Truman and that the president had oked all that he had to say. Then, it seems, Mr. Byrnes, who was in Paris, got busy on the telephone and talked very plainly to the president about how he was being embarrassed by Mr. Wallace. Thereupon the president issued a statement in which he said that while he had examined the speech and approved it, he only meant by his approval to approve the right of Mr. Wallace or any other person to make any kind of a speech that he desired. In a few days thereafter Mr. Wallace was asked to resign," Sigler continued.

"Now they have become frightened that if they do not allow Mr. Wallace to speak in Michigan and other places and expound his views on Socialism and Sovietism that the dear old Democratic party may lose considerable left-wing votes at the election. Well, isn't that just too bad? Poor Henry!—I wonder where he will go from here!"

Calls Stories "Ridiculous"

In his prepared address Sigler touched on the necessity for further encouragement of the tourist industry; the establishment of additional airports in the Upper Peninsula; and increased pay for persons in lower pay brackets in state employment.

Both before and after delivering his prepared address, Sigler assailed those who "are circulating all sorts of vicious and silly stories" about him.

"In a dry community they say that I am a hard drinker, and in a wet community they say that I am against liquor. They have said that I am against the Catholics, yet I am a graduate of the University of Detroit and my daughter is married to a man of that faith. And there is the ridiculous story that I'm a Klu Klux Klan, when the fact is that in 1926 I ran for prosecuting attorney and the most

They Can't Take It

WHERE are the Nazi supermen, those shining examples of the master race, who once proudly goose-stepped and shouted "heil, heil," with gusto?

They were the men who proclaimed war was a fine thing for humanity. And to die for the Fuehrer was the greatest honor that could befall one of the German race. They were tough guys when they used brass knuckles and clubs to beat down political foes during the early struggles of Hitler's rise to power. Once in power, they became tougher. Those who did not agree with them were sent to concentration camps, and innocent Jewish people were tortured and murdered in gas chambers.

Hitler was reported to have danced a jig when the Luftwaffe first bombed London. But when the Allied planes dropped their eggs on Berlin preparatory to the capture of the German capital, the illustrious Fuehrer took the coward's way out of his dilemma by committing suicide.

Other Hitler lieutenants are also showing their stripes. They're not supermen after all. Big Marshal Goering, sentenced to death by the Nuremberg war crimes court, broke into tears the other day and now merely stares into space. Fritz Sauckel cries almost every day. Von Ribbentrop, Jodl, Keitel and other "master racers", who took the deaths of millions of others stoically, are cracking up now that they face the hangman's noose themselves. They could give it during the hey-day of Nazism, but they definitely cannot take it now.

Developing Winter Sports

AN important meeting of the Upper Peninsula inter sports council will be held today at Marquette and out of that conference may come a coordinated plan for the expansion and development of winter sports on a peninsula wide basis.

It took a unified program and sound leadership to promote the Upper Peninsula as a summer playground and today the summer tourist trade constitutes a substantial part of the area's economic strength.

Now we are being awakened to the treasure that we possess in our winter ice and snow which requires only the same kind of unity and leadership to convert those assets into a wholesome and profitable winter sports playground.

In many ways, the summer and winter programs can tie in nicely together because some of the facilities and accommodations constructed for the summer tourist trade can also be used in developing the winter sports programs.

The sports council now is shooting at an ambitious goal, securing the winter Olympic games of 1952 in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan. It may not be realized for 1952 but the very fact that the possibility exists should be an encouraging factor towards the development of winter sports facilities on a scale now only in the dream stage.

As an example of what can be done, one needs only to review the brief history of the Bay de Noc Speed Skating open meet conducted at Escanaba. For several years it was merely a local skating meet, attracting limited interest. This year it will blossom into a skating meet of national attention, attracting many of the top ranking skaters of the country.

The ski jumping tournaments at Ishpeming, Iron Mountain and Ironwood also have served to focus national attention on the winter sports program in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan.

The stakes in the winter sports development program in the Upper Peninsula are high. The program deserves the complete cooperation of every community and every individual.

More Money Needed

RISE in operating costs also have hit the state conservation department, whose officials estimate that an extra million dollars is needed annually to finance postwar projects and routine programs.

With a view toward obtaining additional revenue, the conservation commission will propose an upward revision of hunting, fishing and trapping license fees to the next legislature, which will convene in January.

Of interest to sportsmen will be the proposal to raise the fee for fishing and small game hunting licenses from $1 to $2 and for deer hunting from $2.25 to $3.50. The increase appears considerable when viewed on the percentage basis, but to the resident sportsmen it will mean that they will pay only a couple extra dollars for the enjoyment of their favorite pastimes.

Anyway, the money that the nimrod and angler pay out for license fees is returned to them in better hunting and fishing. License revenues are used only for conservation purposes, such as game protection, fire control, fish planting, game refuges and other programs that assure better hunting and fishing in the future. The sportsman is one taxpayer who gets his money back.

Draft Suspended

THE success of the Army's recruiting program, evidenced by the announcement that draft calls will be suspended for the remainder of the year, is highly encouraging and gives rise to the hope that Selective Service can be discontinued on March 31, when the present act expires.

It is difficult to follow the vagaries of the army manpower problem. Not so long ago the need for men was so acute that Selective Service tightened its regulations and began calling many registrants who previously had been rejected for physical reasons. Because of this action, the announcement that draft calls for the last two and a half months of the year would be suspended came as something of a surprise, but, of course, a welcome one.

The rate of enlistments has been high, although it must be conceded that the fact that the draft law has been in effect contributed considerably to the high rate of army enlistments.

It will be a happy day for the nation when the army's essential military strength can be maintained entirely on a volunteer basis, without the pressure of a draft law.

Other Editorial Comments

INVITATIONS TO FACTORIES (Wall Street Journal)

A few days ago an item in this newspaper spoke of the "big battle" going on almost everywhere to draw industries from one area to another. Many if not most states have governmental departments whose duty it is to bring in new enterprises and foster their growth. Such departments have increased in number within recent years and are becoming more energetic, not to say aggressive. In their campaigns, it happens, of course, that the efforts of one state frequently collide with the interests of another. The word "poaching" is sometimes spoken in a tone of resentment.

Much as any newspaper would like to stand up bravely in defense of its surrounding territory if that happens to be peppered with factories, we can see nothing wrong with this competition among the states for the favor of investors and their management trusts. Throughout the history of this country manufacturing industry has been spreading westward and southward, without lasting damage to the more highly industrialized northeastern states. Neither states nor smaller communities ever become economically self-sufficient. On the contrary, the more numerous and diverse the industries of a given community become, the greater its exchange of goods with a similar community is likely to be.

It is possible, even probable, that westward and southward migration of industry is to be more rapid for a time than it ever has been since America's early days in manufacturing. Both world wars stimulated the movement, particularly the second. Wartime industries trained hundreds of thousands of mechanics in the interior and uncovered or developed new sources and kinds of raw materials. In their wartime and postwar experiences managers of industrial corporations found reasons for preferring a number of scattered small plants to one or two huge establishments in necessarily congested surroundings.

All this, we suppose, does not mean manufacturers are going to desert their present habitat in a hurry but only that for some years the industries will expand somewhat more rapidly in the interior than in the northern Atlantic seaboard states. So long as this trend results from the free play of normal economic causes and not in any degree from governmental paternalism, nobody can reasonably object.

READERS WANT TO KNOW

Buffalo: Regarding the pronunciation of the word "exemplary," during a recent radio broadcast between England and the United States, the American announcer pronounced it "EGZ-em-play." My dictionary accents the second syllable. Which is correct?—A. W.

Answer: While American dictionaries show both EGZ-em-play and eg-ZEM-play, the latter strong prevails in Standard American. I recommend eg-ZEM-play.

Philadelphia: An earthquake used to be called a "tremor." Nowadays the word "temblor" is used. Can you explain this?—R. C. B.

Answer: Tremor, pronounced TREM-er (sometimes TREE-mer) is Latin for "a shaking, quaking, quivering, trembling." In English it usually means "an earthquake." Temblor is Spanish for "earthquake." Accent the second syllable, thus: tem-BLORE.

Roxborough: Is it correct to say, "I shall wait on you," meaning, "I shall wait until you come?"—H. J.

Answer: Correct: I shall wait for you. (In the American idiom, one is "waited on" by servants, waiters, retail clerks, etc.)

Banica: My dictionary says that "conduit" is pronounced "KON-dit." But I have always pronounced the "u." Should I be ostracized?—M. A. J.

Answer: Most dictionaries list "KON-dit" as first or only choice. Nevertheless, the prevailing pronunciation in Standard American is KON-doo-it, which is the second choice of a few dictionaries.

Philadelphia: What should I call the cloth "faile"?—W. A. A.

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Columbus, Ohio.—To witness the full tide of Republican confidence, you have only to come here to Ohio's capital. The GOP in Ohio is riding high, wide and handsome, convinced that victory in 1946 will be merely a prelude to the election of a Republican president in 1948.

Perhaps the most impressive manifestation of this confident tide is "Honest" John Bricker. If the polls, the local political sages and John Bricker are right, then there is no doubt whatsoever that he will be elected to the United States Senate in November. This will be the climax of a career that has seen him three times elected governor of Ohio, each time with a larger majority.

What is more, the probable size of his majority in November will make him a formidable contender for the presidential nomination two years hence. Republicans who distrust Bricker do not find that at all palatable. But it is a fact nevertheless. —NOTHING HAS CHANGED—

When Bricker was persuaded to accept the vice-presidential nomination at the Republican convention in 1944, thereby smoothing the way for the nomination of Thomas E. Dewey for president, a ground swell of resentment was evident. For many of the delegates, Bricker was the ideal Republican presidential candidate, and they felt that he had been prevailed upon to make an unnecessary sacrifice. With a reaction setting in against the Democrats, against new dealism, against "regimentation," that is likely to be even more true two years from now.

Talking with Bricker in his handsome law offices on the 33rd floor of Columbus' most towering office building, you have the sudden and comfortable illusion that nothing in the world has changed. Wars, revolutions, the technology of the B-29 and the atomic bomb—it was all a bad dream propagated by wicked men for their own evil ends.

Bricker looks so presidential, in the solid, white-haired tradition of another century. On the wall facing his desk, is a massive enlargement of one of the simpler, less-posed photographs of Abraham Lincoln. And that, too, is in the tradition.

If the GOP is seeking a business candidate in 1948, they have him right here. He believes in taking off all government controls. He talks of "turning industry and labor loose to do the job." That, he insists, would get houses built.

—DOESN'T AGREE WITH TAFT—

When the name of his friend, Robert A. Taft, senior senator from Ohio, comes into the conversation, a quizzical smile lingers a moment on Bricker's face. He shakes his head a little.

He does not venture to criticize Taft. But it is plain he feels that long residence in Washington has undermined the once staunch Republicanism of his friend and fellow worker in the vineyard. Taft is for a bill which would let the government build houses. He has some kind of scheme to have the government subsidize hospitals.

Bricker holds the firm conviction that no government intervention whatsoever can be tolerated. If you once begin it, then you will never know where to stop.

It is not merely an intellectual conviction. Bricker has great respect—even awe—for wealth as such. He is proud of his friendship with wealthy industrialists such as Ernest T. Weir of Pittsburgh.

Bricker's campaigns attack is simplicity itself. He talks about regimentation, the end of free enterprise, and the death of opportunity. But this last boomeranged a little.

In filling an application for a radio station with some associates, Bricker stated he was worth more than $100,000. Sen. James W. Huffman, the Democrat whom Bricker intends to unseat, remarked in a campaign speech that he thought this proved that opportunity still flourished in America. If a man who has spent only a few years off the public payroll could lay aside that much money, then surely opportunity was very much alive.

By implication at least, Bricker brands Huffman and other Democratic candidates as Communists. He repeats the now familiar Republican line that the Democratic party is dominated by the PAC which, in turn, takes its orders from Moscow. This means, he says, appeasement of Russia in our foreign policy.

The Ohio CIO-PAC is concentrating most of its fire on Bricker. The PAC arranged a special rally here in Columbus, with Sen. Claude Pepper of Florida as the principal speaker. But Bricker says he is grateful to Pepper, who has made votes for him by coming into the state.

The latest Gallup poll showed 56 per cent for Bricker, 28 per cent for Huffman, and the balance undecided. The polls taken by the Columbus citizen show an even more decided GOP trend.

If it were not for these signs and portents, the Republican talk might be put down in part, at least, to campaign bravado. But at long last, the wind seems actually to be blowing in their direction, and the Republicans in Ohio are not trying to conceal their joy.

Exactly like the word "file." The word is from the French; in that language it is pronounced: FA-yuh, the "a" flat, and the "yuh" vanishing softly, almost imperceptibly.

Few Americans know that our national anthem was not written on American soil, and that the music is from an old English drinking song. For a free copy of my HISTORY OF THE NATIONAL ANTHEM, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Frank Colby, in care of this paper.

Biggest Riddle of the Ages

Good Morning!

By The Bugler

MEAT DEALERS—Fourteen Escanaba retail meat dealers gathered at the city hall last Thursday night to discuss the current meat shortage. They arrived a few at a time before 8 o'clock and the first arrivals stood in the doorway of the city hall out of the rain, waiting for the others.

After a little doorstop discussion it was decided to go upstairs to the council rooms. The building was unfamiliar to the majority of the dealers, and the newspaper reporter assigned to cover the meeting found the switches for the council chamber lights. The reporter had been there before attending sessions of the city council and other public meetings.

"There's one thing sure," said Tryz Olson as they entered the council rooms, "we should have the people behind us on this meat question. People want meat, that's all—they want meat."

FOR THE PEOPLE—In the council chambers there was a wait of several minutes while additional meat dealers arrived. Then no more came, and Frank Beck opened the meeting.

"I guess you all know why we are here," he said. "This meat situation is critical, as you all know. If there is anything we can do to help the public we should do it, and this is the time to let those people in Washington know that this control of meat is another step in regimentation and we are against that."

The meat dealers nodded in agreement, and one of them suggested that perhaps petitions should be circulated and sent to Washington. "I see where they did that in Detroit," he added.

"Even if we had to hire somebody to take those petitions from door to door," he continued, "it would be worth it. There would be some expense but this is the time to do something. If we are going to do anything at all, I know the people I have talked to who come into my store certainly want meat."

TIME FOR ACTION—While conducting the meeting Beck sat in the center chair back of the table around which the Escanaba city council groups itself twice each month in regular sessions. The chair was the one in which the mayor usually sits—where Councilman Sam Wickman, Councilman Peter N. Logan sat when they were mayor, and where Mayor Marvin L. Coon sits now that he has been elected to that office.

Incidentally, Escanaba doesn't elect a mayor. It simply elects five councilmen at large, without regard to ward or voting precinct lines. The councilman elected with the largest number of votes has, by long-standing tradition, been recognized as mayor by the council and presides at council sessions.

To the left of the mayor's chair (it looks like all the other chairs) is a large map of the city on the rear wall of the council chamber. To the right is an aerial view of the city. The council chamber and in fact the whole city hall were redecorated and modernized with WPA help about 10 years ago. That was during the days

"This is the time to act," said Beck. "The OPA and the people in Washington say there is a meat shortage but it is not critical. Well, I believe it is critical, and you meat dealers know that too."

CAMP CLOSES—One of the meat dealers, corroborating the statement that the meat situation is critical, said that he had been told that one of the lumber camps in the Upper Peninsula had closed because no meat was available to feed the crew of woodsmen.

SO MANY RULES—In the discussion that followed another meat dealer without meat said that there were "so many OPA rules" that dealers violate them unknowingly. With the meat shortage as critical as it is today, he continued, the best procedure is to "satisfy your customers as much as possible, and if you just forget to put in a sales slip you can't get into any trouble." There was some talk of the "lucky" meat dealers who have some meat "coming in around the first of the week," and there was also the testimony of a dealer present who said that he had not a speck of meat in his place—not even a can of Spam. You will recall that it was the GIs who upon their return home, revolted against even one slice of the stuff they had gotten so often

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington—Harry Truman has received a lot of criticism for not surrounding himself with higher type men in the White House. One reason of course is that Truman is genuinely fond of the poker-playing, joke-telling Missourians and Mississippians who are around him.

On the other hand, few except those on the inside know how hard Truman has tried to get others to join his staff. He begged Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., to become assistant secretary of the Navy. He urged Bob Nathan, former brain trust for the War Production Board to become an economic adviser.

One of his most significant talks was with Isador Lubin, a White House secretary under Roosevelt. The talk indicates that Truman at times feels a sense of genuine loneliness.

"I just can't afford to come back to work for you," Lubin gave as his excuse, when the president first invited him to return. "My daughter is growing up and my expenses are increasing. I just can't live on a government salary."

The president countered by saying that perhaps he could find means of meeting Lubin's financial requirements. This had Lubin stumped, and he hesitated. Actually, he had other reasons for not wanting to come back, but he didn't want to hurt Truman's feelings by saying so. Finally, he blurted:

"Well, Mr. President, there's something I sort of miss around here."

"You mean," suggested the president, "that you miss Roosevelt?"

"Yes," replied Lubin.

"Well, I miss him too," said Truman. From the tone of his voice you could tell that he very much meant it.

—ARGENTINE MEAT—

Most people have forgotten it, but the late President Roosevelt got into quite a controversy in 1939 over the relative merits of Argentine and American beef. Many people at that time said he was casting reflection on the honor of the American cow and claimed he had committed such a political blunder that he couldn't expect to be re-elected.

At that time, the idea of importing Argentine meat was pure political dynamite, much more so than today when the public is clamoring for meat. At that time there was ample meat in the USA, but despite that fact, Roosevelt ordered the U. S. Navy to purchase a mere dribble of 21 tons of Argentine canned beef.

Immediately there was a hue and cry from western cattlemen. They even went so far as to introduce an amendment to the naval appropriations bill whereby the navy would be required to buy only American meat.

Roosevelt, however, stood his ground, even stated publicly that Argentine canned beef was better than American canned beef.

Under an agricultural department ruling, Argentine fresh or frozen beef cannot be imported into the United States because of hoof-and-mouth disease. However, canned beef can be imported. So also can meat—largely mutton—from Patagonia, southernmost end of Argentina, which is disease-free.

During the war the British bought up most of the Argentine meat supply on a lend-lease agreement with the USA, whereby part of the Argentine meat was used for the American army abroad. However, there is no reason why the British could not be induced to divide some of this meat now, especially in view of the fact that it was purchased with American money.

—TOM GIRDLER BIDS—

Dovetailing with this policy, Republic steel has offered to buy the government's South Chicago steel plant for $30,000,000, about one-third its original cost. Payments would be made over twenty years at $1,500,000 a year. No interest would be paid to the government.

Only bidder against Republic steel so far is Henry Kaiser. Shut out of the steel market, Kaiser has decided the only way he can get steel for his automobiles is to make it himself. He has offered to rent the government's South Chicago plant at $2,000,000 a year for the first three years.

Kaiser contends that the government would be able to take the plant back in case of increased international tension, and that, in the interim, it will get more money from him than from Republic.

Most interesting thing to watch in this deal will be the influence of George Allen, RFC director and one of the closest men to President Truman. Allen is a director of Republic Steel, is also considered the messenger boy for Victor Emmanuel, who has an interest in Republic Steel. Thus company officials have a pipeline into the White House day or night.

On the other hand, trust-busting General Tom Clark is charged with discouraging monopoly in the sale of war plants. So it will be interesting to see whether George Allen's friend, Tom Girdler, or the Attorney General wins out.

Few people remember their bad dreams the next day, says a doctor. That's unfortunate—they might make good movie plots.

More and more men are wearing old suits because they can't find new ones to owe for.

A Chicago children's shop is selling monogrammed diapers. In outfitting the new baby, that's just the initial cost.

With some gals it's if the shoe fits, take it off and get a smaller one.

Write your question clearly, sign your name and address, and (IMPORTANT) MAIL THIS COUPON and a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope to Escanaba Daily Press Service Bureau, 1217 Thirteenth St., Washington 5, D. Q. How do the new enlisted men leave regulations consider the sixty-day leave granted to liberated prisoners-of-war?

A. American prisoners-of-war who were returned to the United States and given a sixty-day recuperation, recovery or rehabilitation absence, were on temporary duty and such time was not charged against their ordinary furlough credit.

Q. What and how are readjustment allowances paid to unemployed and partially unemployed veterans?

A. Readjustment allowances payments are figured on a weekly basis and in most states, payments are made or issued weekly. The practice may vary in some states and allowances for two or more weeks be included in one payment.

Q. Is the widow of an enlisted man whose death occurred in the armed forces entitled to pay for any unused furlough that the deceased veteran may have had to his credit?

A. A widow of a veteran who died AFTER discharge from the military or naval service will be entitled to claim terminal leave pay due her husband while he was in the service.

Q. Why are horses obligated to exert or make a much greater motion to start a carriage than afterwards to keep it in motion?

A. Because when a carriage is once put in motion upon a level road, with a determinate speed, the only force necessary to sustain the motion is that which is sufficient to overcome the friction of the road; but, at starting, a greater expenditure of force is necessary, inasmuch as not only the friction is to be overcome, but the force with which the vehicle is intended to move must be communicated to it.

THE TELEGRAMS—Deciding that petitions were too slow a method to direct attention to the critical meat situation, the meat dealers voted to address telegrams to officials in Washington, and to representatives in congress and the senate.

"Senator Vandenberg is in Europe," said Beck, "but there is the other one, Ferguson, and we should send one to Bradley. I think one should go right to the president."

"I doubt if he would ever see it," said another retailer. "They probably turn them all over to OPA."

important plank in my platform was against the Klan," Sigler declared.

He termed such stories "efforts to prevent further exposures of graft and corruption in Michigan if I am elected governor."

Later in his talk he again referred to Communism as "the left wing element that would make America Russianized."

"If every last one of them could go to Russia and see how Joe Stalin has removed freedom of the press, freedom of speech, and also see that other factor that has made America great—freedom of the right to worship God as people please—they would never want it in this country. "We must speak out against such things that are boring from within."

"I have no fear of Communism," Sigler continued, "because the time has come when leaders in America must stand up and speak honestly and fearlessly on this question."

Sigler also said that he believes representatives in Michigan's legislature and senate are not adequately paid, and that salaries of certain state officials should be increased despite the unpopularity of such a proposal. He added that he believed this would be an aid in reducing graft and bribery, and that it would permit men of efficiency and integrity but of limited income to participate in state government.

L. W. OLSON

The annual duplicate contract bridge tournament, sponsored by the Delta Bridge League, of the pair championship of the Upper Peninsula of Michigan will be held on Saturday evening, Nov. 9 and Sunday afternoon, Nov. 10. It will be as usual a two session tournament and will be held at the Elks Club.

J. L. Temby and I will direct the tournament, and a committee of the ladies of the club, headed by Mrs. J. E. Byrnes as chairman, will take care of the luncheon and refreshments.

The club is trying to make this tournament the biggest and best ever held, and we sincerely hope that our many out of town friends will be with us at that time. More details will be given out in the ensuing weeks.

Our regular weekly game, which is now held each Friday, brought out a very satisfactory group of players and the hands were the toughest variety. Just when you thought a hand was in the bag, some adverse distribution would show up and the contract would be set. However hands of this type are always interesting and we all had a very fine time.

Pairs scoring 50% or over during this week's session were as follows:

1. J. L. Temby and L. W. Olson—59.33
2. Mrs. J. E. Byrnes and Mrs. R. Layman—57.14
3. E. J. Kremer and J. Ferguson—56.35
4. C. Buckbee Sr. and C. Buckbee Jr.—55.50

Belgian Girl Is Bride In Ceremony Here Yesterday

At a 6:30 o'clock nuptial mass which took place at St. Joseph church yesterday morning, Miss Ann Vekens became the bride of William J. Longtime, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Longtime of Houghton.

The bride, who recently arrived in this country, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leopold Vekens of Haine, St. Paul, Belgium.

The couple exchanged vows before the Rev. Fr. Francis. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. John Groeschel of this city, sister and brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

The bride wore a grey crepe dress, accented by a shoulder spray of pink carnations and roses. Her accessories were brown. Mrs. Groeschel also wore a grey dress. Her corsage was of bronze chrysanthemums, and she wore black accessories.

Attending the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. William A. Longtime, parents of the bridegroom, who came here from Houghton for the wedding. Mrs. Longtime appeared in a black dress with matching accessories, and wore a shoulder spray of purple asters.

A wedding breakfast was served at the House of Ludington to members of the family, and later a wedding dinner was served at the Groeschel home, 511 First Avenue south.

The couple left for a wedding trip, but did not disclose their destination. The bride selected for her travelling costume a rust colored suit with brown accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Longtime will reside in Houghton, where the bridegroom is employed. He is a graduate of Houghton high school, and served in the armed forces for 43 months, of which 40 months were spent overseas.

Among the guests here for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. George Widmaier of Houghton.

An effective shark repellent, consisting of copper acetate and black water - soluble dyestuff bonded with a wax binder, was developed by the Navy during the war.

Sherwood Backs Amendment No. 2

Crystal Falls—E. Burr Sherwood, Iron County school commissioner, today revealed he has resigned from the State Association of Equalization Schools, of which he has been a member since its inception seven years ago, to work for the passage in the Nov. 5 election of Proposal 2, involving the redistribution of sales tax money to include the schools.

The Association, organized to work for fair distribution of state aid monies, has gone on record against the amendment.

In line with his decision to "work untiringly for the passage of the amendment," as expressed in a letter of resignation to Supt. John S. Page, Howell, Mich., association chairman, Sherwood, who has been a member of the exclusive committee of the group for two years, has called a district meeting of the Michigan Education association at 7:30 Monday in the Iron River High auditorium to discuss with county teachers means of gaining support for the bill in this area. County MEA officers will also be elected Monday.

Strongly endorsed at the recent regional MEA conference in Escanaba, the proposal would provide an estimated $89,000,000 to the school districts of the state through the diversion of a portion of the sales tax revenues to local governmental units and school districts. Under the proposal, one-sixth of the current annual sales tax would go to the schools, and 42.64 per cent of the preceding year's tax would be appropriated to the schools by the state legislature in addition to primary school interest money.

"If accepted by voters, Proposal 2 will, for the first time since the 'Great Depression,' provide reasonably adequate public support for our schools," Sherwood stated. "For the first time in history, boards of education will be enabled to adjust the salaries of teachers upward toward a professional wage commensurate with the public service teachers give," he added.

"Anyone familiar with the struggle to obtain state aid for schools in Michigan knows that at each session of the legislature the school aid bill is the last to be passed. Schools are not a residual public service; they are not something to be provided for after all other pressure groups have been appeased," Sherwood emphasized.

Stephenson Boy Dies Of Polio

Werner Johnson, 18-year-old only son of Mrs. Alma Johnson of Stephenson township, is the first victim of poliomyelitis in Menominee county. The youth died Thursday at 2:30 p. m. in the home of his uncle, Yngve Anderson, about three miles northeast of the village, with whom he and his mother resided. The young man had been ill for a week.

He was born in Stephenson township, October 20, 1927, had lived there all his life and graduated from Stephenson High school in June of this year. He recently enlisted in the Army and was to have left this week for Fort Sheridan to report for training.

The only survivor is his mother.

THE LEAST YOU CAN DO

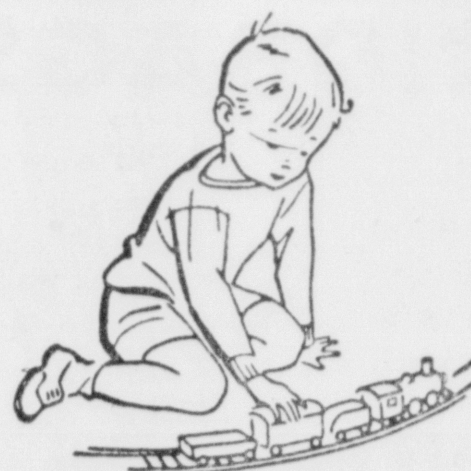

★ The early Greek physicians believed that it was not possible for a man to enjoy perfect health unless he carefully organized his life to accomplish this single objective. This meant the meticulous ordering of each day. Proper nutrition, exercise, and rest were perfectly balanced. Physical constitution, age, and even the seasons of the year were considered.

For a man of affairs, such a regimen is out of the question. When your work is done, you play and exercise when you can. But this little you can do. See your family physician at least once a year. Follow his advice. In case medication is required, we are prepared to serve you, promptly and economically.

FIRE PREVENTION HINTS OFFERED

Chief Wm. Marshall Tells Ways To Cut Local Fire Loss

Hints which if followed will materially reduce fire losses, are offered by Fire Chief William Marshall, as an aid to Gladstone residents in the observance of Fire Prevention Week which begins today.

Good cooperation received here is one of the reasons for Gladstone's low fire losses but there is still room for improvement, the chief points out. Like many other fire chiefs, Marshall is firm in his belief that the best fire fighter in the world is the man who prevents fire.

Among Chief Marshall's suggestions are:

- Remove rubbish, waste paper and all unnecessary combustible material.
- Examine stoves, furnaces and smoke pipes for possible defects.
- Fireproof your home by use of fire safe roofing.
- Have electrical systems inspected for possible defects.
- Know how to turn in a fire alarm accurately and promptly.
- Don't leave small children alone in the house.
- Don't be careless with lighted matches, cigars or cigarettes.
- Don't clean clothes with gasoline, naphtha or benzene.
- Don't replace blown electric fuses with pennies or tin foil.
- Don't leave oily rags near inflammable material.
- Don't look for a gas leak with a match.
- Don't pour water into a pan of burning grease.
- Don't lose your head in case of fire—keep cool.
- Keep the principles of fire prevention always in mind and practice them.

Weed-Killing Dust Boosts Wheat Yield

Mobile dusting units have applied the compound to not less than 13,000 acres, which have returned harvests stated to average 22 per cent greater than those from untreated fields.

Draft Board Report Shows Only One Vet Discharge For Week

Munising—Leslie R. Laakso, Eben Junction, was the only Alger County veteran to be separated from military service for the week ending October 12, 1946, it was announced yesterday by the Munising draft board clerk. Mr. Laakso's "checking in" debilitated, by one, the draft board clerk's supposition on October 5 that this week would be the first week period since demobilization was started after VE day that the local office would not have any one of Alger County check in as discharge.

TAXI SERVICE CHANGES HANDS

Transit Company Takes Over Weber Service

Lauren Brothers, Gilbert and Clement, owners of the Manistique Transit company, better known as the city bus line, have extended their activities, having taken over the Weber Taxi service.

They state that they will broaden the service to supplement the bus business and will meet all trains, busses as well as the Ann Arbor ferry.
These two young men, recently out of the service and looking about for employment opportunities, conceived the idea of starting a bus line in the service. The system started early in July and has been a success from the start. They now maintain four busses and three taxi cabs. At first they attended to the business entirely themselves, but now give steady employment to several men.
They will maintain headquarters at the Weber garage.

WAR ORDER IS DISCONTINUED

Identification Cards No Longer Required By Coast Guard

Coast Guard identification cards, required of all who had matters of business to attend to in the vicinity of naval and marine installations, are no longer required, says Walter Hansen, in charge of the local Coast Guard station. Hansen states that he has been directed by the commandant of the U. S. Coast Guard that "all identification cards issued by that department are to be considered invalid and that it will not be necessary for the holders of these cards to turn them in. The department requests that these cards be destroyed."
This requirement was rigidly enforced, particularly when aliens were concerned, while the war was on.

Woman Pastor To Address Women's Club

"The Covered Wagon," an inspirational theme dealing with a new pioneering venture in American life, will be presented at the meeting of the Manistique Women's Club on Friday afternoon by Alice Graham Winters, of Oak Park, Ill.

Recreation Board Is Really Going To Town

Finishing touches on an elaborate ski slide on the sand hill northeast of the city, just beyond the quarry pool, gives assurance that that pastime will play a prominent part in the recreational activity of the city this coming winter, T. H. Reque, recreational director states.

Leo Popour, employed by the Manistique Recreation Board to put the hill in shape, has filled in dips and dumps in the hill slope and has made a slide that will describe an elongated letter "S" about a quarter of a mile in length.

Planned also, in connection with the slide, is a ski tow, which will not only make it easier for the skiers to return to the top of the hill, but will discourage climbing about the hill and marring the smoothness of the slide.

The newly graded slope will be seeded to grass next spring to insure the slide against erosion.

Also newly graded and ready for transformation into a hockey rink when the big freeze comes, is a large strip of land just west of the quarry pool. This rink will be used by youngsters who like to play hockey and whose activity at the main rink would interfere with those who prefer the more sedate type of skating. The hockey rink will be used as a diamond-ball court in the summer.

A portion of the ground that once was the site of the Hiawatha Hotel, will be leveled and made into a rink to accommodate the youngsters on the west side.

Numerous other activities soon to be launched by the Recreation Board are:

City Basketball

The City Basketball league will resume activities shortly. A meeting for the purpose of organizing teams and a schedule will be held at the old gymnasium on Thursday evening.

Ladies' Gym Class

There will be a meeting of women interested in organizing a gym class at the Lincoln school gymnasium on the evening of Wednesday, October 16. It is planned to have this gym class meet at the gymnasium each Wednesday evening to go through a system of calisthenics under the direction of a paid instructor. The Misses Evelyn Schuster and Helen Thorpe are in charge of the activity. There will be no charge to those who attend the classes.

A similar gym class will later be organized at Central school.

Adult men's classes are also being planned.

Dart Ball

Organization of an inter-church dart ball league will be the purpose of a meeting to be held at the old gym on Thursday evening at 7 o'clock. At least six teams are expected to enter the league which will be made up of men's groups from Bethel Baptist, Presbyterian, Methodist, and Lutheran churches, and the Knights of Columbus and others. Time and places of meeting will be decided upon later.

The league will be maintained by these church organizations. The Recreation Board is acting only to help get the league started.

Junior Boxing League

A group of youngsters in their early teens are being instructed in the rudiments of boxing at the old gym on Monday and Wednesday evenings until tutelage of Ed Toyra. It is not the intention of the sponsors to train them for any specific matches, but to make them adept in this kind of sport. The youngsters are permitted to participate only after the instructor has received the written consent from the boy's parents. Entered so far in the training are Billy Belore, Eugene Repp, Don Quick, Ronald Welsh, Warren LaBarr, Jimmy Scharstrom, Howard Strassler, Jack Reque, Joe Jenner, Ernie Repp and Francis and Billy Ekdahl.

"Although these activities are many and varied, and may sound imposing," says Play Director Reque, "we are keeping well within the budget. It will surprise many how little these activities and projects really cost."

POWER PLAYS LICK FLIVVERS

Escanaba Scores Every Quarter; Long Runs Are Features

The Eskymos made a brilliant comeback from their Menominee lacing yesterday to trounce the Kingsford Flivvers, 31 to 0, at the Escanaba athletic field. The Eskymos Reserves also trimmed the Kingsford Reserves, 20 to 7.

Flashing their best display of power of the season, Escanaba scored at least once in every quarter and showed two touchdowns in the second period. Although they played without the talents of Belanger, halfback, and Goymerac, end, the Eskymos were complete mastery of the situation all the way.

Escanaba missed a touchdown in the first few minutes of play after recovering Rice's kickoff fumble on the Kingsford 25 yard line. The Orange team lost the ball on downs on the two yard line and Gunville kicked out to midfield. Peterson kicked back to the nine yard line, from where Smalley fumbled, Schils recovering for Escanaba. Gustafson powered his way for the first touchdown from that point and the big fullback also added the extra point on a line smash.

2 Long Touchdown Runs
A fumble also set up the Eskymos' second touchdown on which was scored on the first play of the second period. Smalley's fumble was snatched by Lloyd Johnson of the Eskymos on the Kingsford 48 yard line. Smith dashed through a quick opening, veered to the right and scored all the way. Judson's kick was not good.

Gustafson intercepted a Kingsford pass on the Flivvers' 48 yard line later in the period and on the next play, he broke through the Kingsford defense and outraced three pursuers to the goal. Judson's kick for the extra point was blocked.

The Eskymos very nearly cashed another touchdown opportunity just before the half ended, but finally lost the ball on the two yard line after absorbing a five yard penalty.

The fourth touchdown resulted from an 83 yard march by the Eskymos after receiving the second half kickoff. With Peterson, Gustafson and Smith biting off yardage in sizable hunks, the Eskymos marched all the way. Gustafson scoring from the two yard line. A snarl for the extra point was stopped without gain.

Fumbles that plagued the Flivvers all afternoon set up the fifth and final touchdown. Sviland recovered Gunville's fumble on the Kingsford 35 yard stripe. Peterson dashed 17 yards on the first play. Smith gained two. Gustafson and Nicholson each chewed off five yards and then Gustafson crashed into the end zone for the final field yards and the last touchdown of the game. Judson's kick was not good.

Escanaba gained 291 yards net on running plays and 54 on passes for a total of 345 yards, earning 12 first downs. Kingsford gained 72 yards net on running plays and 42 on passes, making six first downs. Gustafson led the Eskymos in yardage with a total of 143 yards in 17 attempts, an average of 8.4 yards per attempt.

Lions Launch Home Season To Battle Chicago Cardinals

Detroit, Oct. 12. (AP)—Beaten twice straight on the road in a start that threatens to be the worst under the coaching tenure of Charles E. Dorr, the Lions, the Detroit Lions open their National Football League home season here Sunday against the Chicago Cardinals, a team that already has belted them 34 to 14.

With favorable weather a crowd of 30,000 fans was in prospect for the 2 p. m. kickoff in Briggs Stadium. The customers, as well as Dorr, realize the importance of the scrap for the Lions who need a victory like never before to prove Dorais took the helm three years ago.

Runners-up to the champion Cleveland Rams in the Western division last year, Detroit won seven of 10 games.

Another defeat at the hands of the Cards this week would send the Lions into a second two-game road trip against Los Angeles and Green Bay still looking for their first win.

With four of their six home games carded for November, the Lions must get back into the title scramble in a hurry or they'll find themselves mathematically eliminated from the race before they get their home season really underway.

"We'll be better prepared for the Cardinals this time," Dorais said today. "For the first time since the first day of our training camp every player on the squad will be able to play. We were an improved team last week although we lost to Washington 17 to 16, and we'll give the Cards a different game here."

While the struggle is a crucial one for the Lions, it's also critical for the Cardinals, who have lost twice straight to Pittsburgh and the Chicago Bears since trimming Detroit in the Sept. 30 opener.

Detroit's hope of getting into the victory column lies almost entirely with passes. The Lions have to stop Paul Christman and Ray Mallow, the Cardinal pitchers who have completed 21 of 43 passes so far, and they have to connect with their own aerials because there's little hope of ad-

The Sports Parade

By Ken Gunderman

Negaunee's football team doesn't rate in the first 10 of U. P. grid eleven but the Miners knocked Houghton from the list of undefeated eleven Friday night, 12 to 6, proving that the spectacular Houghton record was earned at the expense of woefully weak competition in the Copper Country. Prior to Friday night, Houghton had run up four decisive victories, scoring 143 points against 19 for the opposition, an average of 38 points per game. The point is, bringing this up is that the Copper Country has long resented the disposition of other sections of the peninsula to under-rate gridiron records of Houghton and Houghton, made against competition that is not representative of the highest quality football played in the Upper Peninsula.

Of the Copper Country schools sponsoring football, Calumet is the farthest north but Calumet usually books a representative schedule, meeting such widespread opposition as Ironwood, Bessemer, Kingsford, Ishpeming, and others. It is because of this fact that when Calumet comes up with a strong team, it rates consideration for U. P. championship honors. On the other hand, neither Houghton nor Hancock could possibly be acclaimed U. P. champions on any records based upon their present schedules. Undoubtedly this is unfair to those schools in years in which they produce outstanding teams, but the point is simply that no one can possibly determine how good Houghton or Hancock really is due to the limited schedules played by those teams.

The most representative Upper Peninsula schedule played by any team is that of Escanaba, which plays opponents from both east-west extremes—Soo and Ironwood, as well as such other toughies as Menominee, Norway, Iron Mountain, Kingsford and Gladstone. Menominee's schedule is very similar to that of the Eskymos, the Maroons also playing most of these teams. The Eskymos, however, play seven of their eight games against U. P. competition, while Menominee plays only five games against U. P. schools. The Maroon schedule certainly is just as tough as the Eskymos, but not quite as representative against U. P. competition.

Comparatively speaking, the toughest football schedule booked by any U. P. team is Norway's because Norway, a Class C school, has a schedule well slanted with Class B opposition. The Vikings play such Class B biggies as Escanaba, Iron River, Stambaugh, Iron Mountain, Kingsford and Marinette. In fact, the only Class C team booked by Norway is St. Joseph of Escanaba. Incidentally Norway's record against Class F opposition is sharp, indeed. The Braves of Gladstone also tackle a number of Class B opponents, including Ishpeming, Marquette, Manistique and Escanaba.

Discoveries Feature Week's Grid Picture

BY HAROLD CLAASSEN

New York, Oct. 12. (AP)—Many a college football team discovered that not all is roses and musk on the gridiron today—the 454th anniversary of Columbus' discovery of America.

Illinois, the team that was to have been one of the Midwest's greatest, discovered a second tatter in Indiana and bowed, 14 to 7, behind the pitching of Ben Raimondo, the boy from Brooklyn.

Oklahoma discovered Texas wasn't near as tough as expected, the Longhorns winning by a single touchdown, 20 to 13, just two weeks after the Sooners had been set back by Army, 21 to 7.

BRAVES SCORE 4TH VICTORY

Indians Outclassed By Keilmen; 85 Yard Run Thrills Fans

The Gladstone Braves maintained an undefeated record and passed another important hurdle along the path to U. P. gridiron glory yesterday by knocking off the Newberry Indians, 20 to 7, at Newberry for the fourth successive victory.

The Braves completely outclassed the Indians even more decisively than the score indicates. In addition to their three touchdowns, the Braves were knocking at the door several other times during the afternoon but fumbles and penalties halted those drives. Newberry, on the other hand, scored its lone touchdown on an 85-yard kickoff run in the final stanza and never made a serious threat at any other time in the game.

85 Yard Run
LeGault passed to Johnson from the five yard line for the first Gladstone touchdown, winding up a 40 yard touchdown drive. Gillis missed the point. The score was tied in the first period and provided the only scoring in the first half of the game.

The second Gladstone touchdown climaxed another 40 yard drive, LeGault scoring from the two yard line and Gillis booted the try for point.

Gladstone scored again in the third stanza after Butler intercepted a Newberry pass on his own 35 yard line and raced it back to the Newberry 35. The Braves fashioned two first downs and then Gillis scored, also kicking the extra point.

It was on the ensuing kickoff that a Newberry halfback raced 85 yards for a touchdown run to give the Indians their only scoring break of the day. The try for point failed.

Advancing through a Chicago line that averages upwards of 225 pounds a man.

So far Detroit's air attack, backbone of its offense, has been better than fair with three former University of Michigan performers—Ed Frutig, Johnny Greene and Bob Westfall—making five catches each in an aerial game that has netted 25 completions in 57 attempts for a total advance of 308 yards.

Dorais named virtually the same Detroit lineup that started against Washington last week with Dave Ryan operating as a newly converted tailback. Ivan Schottel drew the nod at quarterback with Bill DeCorrevort at right half and Bob Westfall at fullback.

Texas, currently the No. 1 team in the AP's weekly poll, was expected to win by at least four touchdowns.

And Army re-discovered Felix (Doc) Blanchard, its two-time All-America fullback just in time to chalk up its 22nd consecutive victory by spilling an ambitious Michigan outfit, 20 to 13. Blanchard, cut for two and a half games, joined Glenn Davis and Arnold Tucker in unveiling a series of long passes that brought a final period marker and victory.

Other discoveries of the day included the evidence that Columbia has a satisfactory line to supplement its horde of backs and the fact that Oregon State's returned veterans of the 1942 Rose Bowl squad still can play football. They spilled Southern California, 6 to 0.

Indiana's victory over Illinois wasn't the only surprise of the Big Nine, Wisconsin unleashing a last half attack to down Ohio State, 20 to 7, and Northwestern continuing Minnesota's string of loop defeats that started a year ago, 14 to 7. Purdue was humiliated by Notre Dame, 49 to 6, but Iowa came up with a 21 to 7 decision over Nebraska.

Tennessee and Alabama, two of the Dixie powerhouse who collide next Saturday, prepped for the affair by bowling over minor opposition, the Vols conquering Chattanooga, 47 to 7, and Alabama keeping Harry Gilmer on the bench while downing Southwest Louisiana, 54 to 0.

Mississippi State invaded the north and scored a quick touchdown before freezing out a 6 to 0 verdict over Michigan State. Mississippi University also got a single marker but lost to Georgia Tech, 24 to 7, and Vanderbilt kept its record of not being scored on in disposing of Florida, 20 to 0. Auburn halted St. Louis, 27 to 7, in an intersectional affair.

Duke, beaten in its first two starts, turned George Clark loose and the ex-GI sank the Navy, 21 to 6. The surprise in the Southern Conference, however, was the ease with which North Carolina, Wake Forest and William & Mary gallanted to victories.

North Carolina downed Maryland, 23 to 0; Wake Forest took in Clemson, 19 to 7; and William & Mary drubbed VPI, 49 to 0.

The day's largest crowd, a throng of 90,803, watched the revived UCLA outfit batter Stanford, 26 to 6, in a game that may have determined the West Coast's Rose Bowl representative before the season heads into November.

Washington suddenly found its scoring punch in the final quarter and up-ended Washington State, 21 to 7, while another coast crowd watched St. Mary's Herman Wedemeyer stopped by California 20 to 13.

In the East the ancient rivalry between Harvard and Princeton was revived with the Maroon skidding to a 13 to 12 victory. Pennsylvania showed its expected power in downing previously unbeaten Dartmouth, 39 to 6. Cornell's ground attack functioned despite the rains in stopping Colgate, 13 to 6. Villanova upset favored Holy Cross, 14 to 13.

Missouri and Kansas, arch rivals of the Big Six, and easy victories, the Tigers blasting Kansas State 26 to 0, and Kansas outrunning Iowa State, 24 to 8. Iowa State is the school which turned to horse-steaks for its gridders this week.

Of the 650,000 miles of surfaced roads and streets in the United States, 500,000 miles are covered with asphalt.

VIKINGS BEAT TROJANS, 19-0

St. Joseph Lads Put Up Tough Scrap With Norway

Outscored but never outgamed the St. Joseph Trojans lost a 19-0 decision to the classy Norway Vikings yesterday afternoon at the Norway athletic field.

Norway scored in the first, second and fourth quarters, setting up two of their touchdowns on passes and a third on a blocked punt.

Marchetti scored the first counter in the opening stanza and the Vikings wicked the extra point. Overthaler plunged for the second touchdown, made in the second quarter, and the final score came on a 30-yard pass from Devine to the Norway right end.

Marengre, Trojan fullback, gained consistently through the Norway line and nearly broke loose for touchdown runs several times, being hauled down by the Vikings' safety man, Marengre gained 92 yards, losing eight, for a net of 88 yards, and the Trojans piled up nine first downs to eight for Norway.

The Trojans were in scoring position after a 45-yard gain on a pass from Lewis to Stropich but two successive 15-yard holding penalties nullified that opportunity.

Next week the St. Joseph team will play at Crystal Falls.

Northern Michigan Loses To Central

Marquette, Mich., Oct. 12. (AP)—Central Michigan College ran rough shod over Northern Michigan here this afternoon to defeat the Marquette teachers 60 to 0. It was the first defeat for Northern in three games.

Central used passes to score its first four touchdowns in the first half, then depended on a running game for five goals in the last two quarters. Anthony Pabalis' conversions on six of seven place-kick attempts featured the game.

Wisconsin Defeats Ohio State, 20 to 7

Sulfur Is Removed From Molten Iron By New Process

Washington—Sulfur, the chemist's standby in a thousand operations, is one of the worst headaches of the metallurgist, particularly the worker in ferrous metals. It can cause sudden and unpredictable flaws and failures in iron and steel castings and forgings; and as a rule its presence in the walls of chemical reaction vessels is intolerable. But getting it out of raw iron is far from an easy job.

Among means suggested has been the use of fused calcium carbide. However, calcium carbide is very much lighter than iron, and its melting point is considerably higher. To overcome this dilemma, John J. Crowe of Westfield, N. J., puts his lumps of calcium carbide in a crucible with a closed top but an open bottom, which he suspends or floats on top of a ladle of molten iron. He melts the carbide by means of an electric arc, maintaining it at its own fusion point.

The continuous boiling motion of the molten metal brings every particle of it eventually into contact with the small mass of fused carbide, which soaks it up like a sponge, converting it into calcium sulfide. This rises to the top as a slag and may be removed.

Mr. Crowe has just been granted U. S. patent 2,409,020 on this process, and has assigned his rights to the Air Reduction Company, Inc.

SPARTANS DROP 6-0 DECISION

First Period Score Is Margin Of Victory For Mississippi

BY DICK FRAZIER
East Lansing, Mich., Oct. 12. (AP)—A hard-running Mississippi State College eleven took the opening kickoff and marched 85 yards for the lone touchdown of the day as it edged Michigan State 6 to 0 today.

A crowd of 22,125 wet, chilled spectators saw Halfbacks Larry Matulich and Tom "Shorty" McWilliams spark the scoring drive which saw Matulich plunge over from the four yard line on the 14th running play of the game.

The winners then survived a pair of Spartan drives to the five yard line in the second and third periods to post their first win over Michigan State.

Failure to match Mississippi State's double first-string line coach Coach Charley Bachman's team its second successive defeat against a single victory over Wayne University. The Spartans made two commendable drives via the air ways, but each time lost the ball on downs after failing to push over for the score.

57 Yard Drive
Meanwhile, Mississippi State was ripping big holes in the Spartans' line to hold the Michigan State ground attack to a mere 21 yards net. The Maroons, with Matulich, McWilliams and Capt. Billy "Shock" Murphy carrying the attack, picked up 182 yards rushing and added 23 on one completed pass.

The southern eleven opened the fourth period with a 57-yard drive that ended on the one yard line after Murphy had hammered away at the center of the Michigan State line for three plays. The Spartans perked up after halting that threat and came back to punt on fourth down. Matulich kicked right back into Spartan territory and the Maroons settled

ARMY PRESSED BY WOLVERINES

Cadets Take 20-13 Margin In Battle At Ann Arbor

BY FRANK KENESSON
Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 12. (AP)—Army's mighty football team, invading the west for the first time in 12 years, ran into a pack of trouble against Michigan here today but powered 76 yards for a fourth period touchdown to edge the Wolverines, 20 to 13. It was the 22nd straight victory for the Cadets since they lost to Navy in their last game of 1943.

Army's seemingly endless victory parade seemed destined to fall before a determined Michigan eleven that led at one time 7 to 0, and after dropping back again pulled into a 13-all tie with an 82-yard touchdown march the first time the Wolverines got the ball in the second half.

But Army's touchdown twins, halfback Glenn Davis and fullback Felix (Doc) Blanchard, powered the Cadets to their winning touchdown with 11 minutes of playing time remaining.

Spectacular Show
Michigan, battling all the way, connected twice in a last minute desperation air attack and pushed to the army 10-yard line before a pair of holding penalties smashed the Wolverines' threat to tie it up again.

Davis, who played every second of the game, and Blanchard, who missed only a few minutes, gave the packed house of 85,938 fans a spectacular show but it was Davis' slingshot arm and pedalling legs that hogged the individual glory.

Davis, combining his terrific speed with an amazing change of pace, ran 58 yards for Army's first score in the opening stanza and flipped a 31-yard pass to Bob Folsom for the score that put Army on top, 13 to 7, just 29 seconds before half time.

Either Davis or Blanchard handled the ball on all but one play as the West Pointers plowed 76 yards on 11 plays at the outset of the final period for their all-important touchdown. Blanchard skidded off Michigan's right end from the seven-yard line for the big score, carrying Michigan halfback Paul White with him to roll into the end zone.

The statistics show how Army, its running game matched by the determined Wolverines, won through the air.

Each team made a dozen first downs and Army's 152 yards rushing proved just 11 more than Michigan had on the ground.

But the Cadets completed 12 of 15 passes for a total of 211 yards while Michigan connected on eight of 17 for 95 yards.

Davis completed seven straight passes without a miss for 159 yards and peeled off 105 more on the ground.

Minnesota Beaten By Northwestern

Evanston, Ill., Oct. 12. (AP)—Scoring on the first running play as Frank Aschenbrenner scooted 67 yards for a touchdown, Northwestern defeated a stubborn Minnesota eleven, 14-7, in a Western Conference game witnessed by 40,000 here today.

Aschenbrenner also scored the second Northwestern touchdown on a six-yard end sweep after Minnesota tied the count at 7-7.

down to a defensive game until time ran out.

The fast-charging Maroon line held Michigan State's star halfback Russ Reader to a net one yard rushing while Mississippi State's backs divided the running duties. Fullback Bob Pillow picked up 42 yards on nine attempts. Murphy 32 on 10 tries, and Matulich 29 on nine chances.

MATHERS LICK 'STIQUE, 40-12

High Scoring Game Gives Plenty Of Excitement At Munising

Munising, Oct. 12. (AP)—With Burley and Bovan leading the attack, Munising swamped Manistique, 40 to 12, in a high school football game here today. The victory provided a fitting celebration for the Mathers who adopted a new nickname, Mustangs, by a vote of the student body.

Bovan scored the first touchdown on a sprint from the eight-yard line in the opening quarter and added the extra point on a line plunge. The second touchdown was scored by Burley, also in the first period, but the try for point failed.

Munising struck again before the half ended, with Burley scoring from the six-yard line and Burley also converted the try for point. The half time score was 20-0.

A sparkling 56-yard run by Burley scored the fourth touchdown for the Mustangs in the third quarter and a placement added the extra point.

Manistique broke into the scoring at this point with Schuster running 40 yards for a touchdown, the Emeralds failing to convert the extra point.

Munising got that touchdown back in the same period, however, when Sova took a pass from Bovan for a 45-yard gain to the Emeralds' goal. The try for point failed.

Munising completed its scoring for the afternoon when Sova dashed 30 yards in the final stanza for the fifth touchdown. Bovan kicked the point. Still gamely battling, the Manistique team came back before time ran out with another touchdown of their own, Schuster again making the counter. The try for point missed and the game ended shortly after with Munising on top, 40 to 12.

HARVARD WINS
Princeton, N. J., Oct. 12. (AP)—Harvard shaded Princeton, 13-12, in a grid thriller today. Tommy Gannon's 66-yard touchdown run in the third period providing the score that gave unbeaten Harvard its third straight victory of the season.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to all my relatives, friends and neighbors who have so kindly remembered me with letters, cards, flowers and other gifts while I am a patient at St. Francis hospital. Your many kind words will always be held in grateful remembrance.

Signed: MISS ALICE NELSON. 9912-286-1t
